Each year, the Bonn Applied English Linguistics group hosts a conference aimed specifically at postgraduate, PhD, and post-doc students. This conference allows young linguists to showcase their empirical research projects in all areas of Applied Linguistics broadly defined. BAELc13 is a great opportunity to learn from each other, get feedback on your work and network with other researchers in the field.

This year, the conference will focus particularly on work related to the theme Studying World Englishes, Teaching World Englishes.

In addition, papers from all areas of Applied Linguistics are welcome, with a strong preference for work with an empirical approach.

Proposals may be submitted by April 15th, 2024 at <https://easyabs.linguistlist.org/submit/BAELc13>. Abstracts should be approximately 300 words long (excl. references) and should include (i) a brief summary of previous research and a research gap, (ii) a hypothesis or research objective, (iii) methods and data and (iv) results. Please also include a short bio-note of up to 100 words.

Speakers will have 20 minutes for their presentation, followed by a brief Q&A session.
The conference will be conducted entirely in English.

Notifications of acceptance for BAELc13 can be expected by early May. If you wish to be contacted earlier, you may request so by sending an email to bael@uni-bonn.de. However, an early decision is only available for abstracts submitted by March 15th.

The conference is planned as an in-person event. All talks will be held in the rooms of the University Forum (FIW), Heussallee 18-24, 53113 Bonn, Germany, on Friday, July 5th and Saturday, July 6th, 2024.
