Call for Papers

Fourteenth Bonn Applied English Linguistics Conference (BAELc14)

– Corpus Approaches to Applied Linguistics–

Friday, July 11th and Saturday, July 12th, 2024

Keynote speakers

Dr. Isobelle Clarke
Lecturer in Security and Protection Science
Lancaster University, United Kingdom

Prof. Dr. Valentin Werner
Professor of linguistics
Universität Bamberg, Germany

Each year, the Bonn Applied English Linguistics group hosts a conference aimed specifically at postgraduate, PhD, and post-doc students. This conference allows young linguists to showcase their empirical research projects in all areas of Applied Linguistics broadly defined. BAELc14 is a great opportunity to learn from each other, get feedback on your work and network with other researchers in the field.

This year, the conference will focus particularly on work related to corpus research.

In addition, papers from all areas of Applied Linguistics are welcome, with a strong preference for work with an empirical approach.

Proposals may be submitted by May 1st, 2025 at bael@uni-bonn.de. Abstracts should be approximately 300 words long (excl. references) and should include (i) a brief summary of previous research and a research gap, (ii) a hypothesis or research objective, (iii) methods and data and (iv) results. Please also include a short bio-note of up to 100 words.

Speakers will have 20 minutes for their presentation, followed by a brief Q&A session. The conference will be conducted entirely in English.

The conference is planned as an in-person event. All talks will be held in the rooms of the University Forum (FIW), Heussallee 18-24, 53113 Bonn, Germany, on Friday, July 11th and Saturday, July 12th, 2025.

Further information and updates are available at: https://www.iaak.uni-bonn.de/bael/en/news-and-events/all-news-and-events/bael-conference/baelc-1/baelc14

Questions on the conference should be directed at bael@uni-bonn.de.

bonn applied
english linguistics

UNIVERSITÄT BONN